Convention Calendar

Rochester, NY

January 2009 Edition

This calendar provides the following information:

Meeting Dates	Association/ Organization	Meeting Name/ Event
Contact Name		Peak Room Nights
Contact Title		Meeting/ Event Attendance
Contact Address		Meeting/ Event Location
Contact Telephone		Hotel(s) Hosting Attendees
Contact E-Mail

This calendar represents the coordinated efforts of the entire Rochester/Monroe County convention and visitor industry, VisitRochester members and staff, and civic-minded Rochesterians. While this calendar lists sports tournaments, tradeshows and public shows, meetings and conventions, no attempt has been made to list all of the many diverse events scheduled in Rochester throughout each year.

Every effort has been made to ensure this calendar contains accurate and current information. Some dates and/or location of meetings and events may have changed since the printing of this calendar. If you plan any activities around a meeting or event, you may want to verify the information with the meeting planner/contact or call VisitRochester.

VisitRochester publishes the entire convention calendar twice a year in January and July, with updates published monthly in between.

If you would like additional copies of this convention calendar, we would be happy to supply them to you at no cost. We ask that you not reproduce this calendar, as this is confidential information provided by VisitRochester for the benefit of its members.

To request additional copies, or to report any changes or errors, please contact Eleanor Olander at VisitRochester at 585/262-4238 or via e-mail to eleanoro@visitrochester.com.

How to use your Convention Calendar

Please note the following suggestions and tips for using this convention calendar.

1. Pay special attention to the location of each meeting and whether or not it could have an impact on your business.
2. Review your calendar periodically to research and qualify clients who may be appropriate for solicitation.
3. Keep in mind that many of these meetings are annual meetings. It is not a good idea to contact planners more than 12 months in advance, or during the month of their meeting. A good rule of thumb is to make contact 6 to 10 months in advance. Here is a suggested time frame for specific segments to begin contacting meeting planners:

Catering/ Restaurant – 10 to 12 months

Transportation – 6 to 8 months

Retail – 30 to 90 days

Service Organizations – 90 days

Corporate – 30 to 90 days

4. Who are these people? Is this an ethnic, fraternal, or political organization? If so do you have an affiliation with this group?
5. Send your brochure and business card with a personalized cover letter. Think of ways to set your business apart and be prepared to offer something unique—such as special hours, incentives, etc. Consider each group's financial status.
6. Remember to follow up as often as necessary! In many cases, additional materials and possibly a visit by the contact to your business will be required before they select your product or service.
7. Consider displaying a sign or designing a banner to welcome a particular group.
8. Ask the planner/contact if you can provide your brochure for their registration packets or mailings, or possibly advertise in their program.
9. Keep information simple and “to the point” and definitely include details on costs, your location, and how accessible you are to the group and its delegates.
10. Give them a response mechanism with your letter or brochure. (ie: yes, I am interested; or no, I am not interested). This will save them time and will save you money and time on follow-up letters and phone calls.

If an organization is listed without a contact name, phone number or e-mail, this means that the organization has requested that it not be published. Please correspond in writing if this is the case.
